

This master's thesis focuses on the broad issue of technoimagination and modern age, and it is based on Vilém Flusser's theories of the shift in imagination paradigm, in particular functioning and meaning of technical images.